

This song/poem was written in memory of all my bands friends that have past away.

What will be left of the soul, when sweet bells of death hath sang their toll?
so rest in paradise you will always be missed your death has made me care so much more for all of this so rest in paradise you will always be missed so here's to you we raise our glass to eternal bliss this earthly life, swiftly swept away friend and brother, and son all lost in a day whose sorrows will my passing play? whose tears shall fall? and whose lives delayed? dont stand at his grave and weep he is not there, he does not sleep he is everywhere we go the sparkle in the snow a lost mothers son, but what keeps her so strong this is what we have fear no evil he'll come to us from dreams faint memories they will seem

this earthly life, swiftly swept away, friend, brother, and son all lost in a day the path of death whose travellers borne, step into the dawn and never return we will never forget your fame in our hearts you'll always remain you will stay, every day this is what we're left with, after a tragedy these broken words they keep you with me so who will remember me when I have passed? only in memories shall our legacies last
